

Two Bright Smiles

Dental care during pregnancy? Yes!

The good news is, dental care is safe for pregnant people!

And, you are covered for many dental services under the Oregon Health Plan.

We are happy to help you find a dentist and make an appointment.

Dental care is safe for you and your baby!

Pregnancy and your oral health

Pregnancy affects your body in many ways, even your mouth. Some people have sensitive, swollen and bleeding gums during pregnancy.

If this happens to you, it can put your baby at risk for being born early. Premature birth can cause many health problems for your child.

Home care for a healthy mouth

You can take steps every day to protect your dental health:

- Brush morning and night.
- Floss your teeth every day.
- Choose healthy food and snacks.
- Rinse with baking soda and water after vomiting.
- Drink water between meals and snacks.
